If you don't desire to meet the Devil during the day, meet Jesus before the dawn.

A Father's Day to remember.....

We wanted it to be a special day. And so it was! 8 babies were dedicated in our Chapel service that morning. As we wept over letters from mom's of babies who had gone home, our dads had to jokingly remind us, "Hey this is Fathers' day, not Mothers' Day"! 6 of our babies were under 5 months old and we dedicated one little toddler who had only been with us for a couple of days. As our "Fathers" gathered around to lay hands on these little lives there wasn't a dry eye. To make it even more special, one of our mothers was able to be present and hold her own baby as we prayed.

The heart is the happiest when it beats for others

This is our greatest privilege—to be entrusted by the Living God with these precious children. As our men came forward to dedicate our babies, the Chapel hummed with the prayers of the ladies who pour their lives into them each day. Brenda, pictured below with baby Cameron has loved him since he was born. Josh held baby Drake with all the care of the father he has never known; while Jeshua prayed for baby Noah with the same intensity with which he lives his life for God.

How wonderful it was to have Lucretia with us as we dedicated little Zaire to the Lord. Thanks to Life Tech Transition Facility, she is able to be in Church with us each Sunday morning. Lucretia gave her heart to the Lord just weeks before. What a difference the Gospel makes. Lucretia is working hard to get her GED before she goes on to the Lovelady Center where she can have her baby with her.

Changed Lives.

*Remember little Katerra? Here she is at home with her family. How thrilled and blessed we are to know that God enabled us to be a part of the miracle that put life back together for this little girl. Her mom sent us an email on Father's day that touched our hearts. Last week I entered Naomi's office and left on tip toe as I heard her ministering so earnestly to another of our moms, who was home and struggling with bills and teenage children. God help us to speak words of life into our mothers on visits and phone calls.

On the 12th of July a crew is arriving to finally install the sprinkler system in our new houses. How we have waited for this day.

We have been praying fervently for God to speed up the completion of these buildings that we need so badly. Our teenagers are getting older and with 6 little babies under 5 months old, not to mention our 12 noisy preschoolers and even louder 4 to 12 year olds, we need those buildings so badly. His timing is perfect. God is on the Throne. He never makes mistakes. How we trust Him for every step of progress we make. Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it..

Little Caleb , aged 2, (second from left), has just joined us and is enjoying all his new friends, swimming in the pool and splashing people

This month, we found our school uniforms in a store for a very good price, far below what we had to pay last year. We purchased a great deal of them and had to charge $1,044.56 to our credit card. That seemed a lot more sensible than having to buy them for double the price in August when we also will need to buy school curriculum for 25 children. If you would like to help pay for either the curriculum or the school uniforms, we would be so very grateful .

"We covet your prayers"

July and August are typically our hardest months financially. Last July was particularly hard. With two new houses under construction and extra children arriving, we need a miracle of provision at this point. While everyone is discussing recession, we are believing God to touch hearts and lives to give, pressed down, shaken together and running over.
